

Allegations and concerns against adults (or any 16-18 year olds) working/volunteering in education settings – September 2026 (including schools, colleges, early years and alternative provision settings)

If you have any concern – no matter how small, and even if no more than causing a sense of unease or a ‘nagging doubt’ - that an adult working in or on behalf of the school may have acted in a way that:

- is inconsistent with the staff code of conduct, including inappropriate conduct outside of work (if in doubt, refer to LADO) and
- does not meet the harm threshold or is otherwise not serious enough to consider a referral to the LADO.

Examples of such behaviour could include, but are not limited to:

- Being over friendly with children
- Having favourites
- Taking photographs of children on their mobile phone, contrary to school policy
- Engaging with a child on a one-to-one basis in a scheduled area or behind a closed door; or,
- Humiliating pupils

* Please refer to LADO if a pattern or multiple low level concerns are identified for an individual.

(Staff should self-refer to the Headteacher, or whoever is named within their setting, where they have found themselves in a situation which could be misinterpreted, might appear compromising to others, and/or on reflection they believe they have behaved in a such a way that consider it falls below the expected professional standards)

If you become aware that a member of staff/volunteer/supply/contractor/ bank staff and those from organisations or individuals using the school premises, MAY have:

- behaved in a way that has harmed a child, or may have harmed a child and/or possibly committed a criminal offence against or related to a child, and/or
- behaved towards a child or children in a way that indicates he or she may pose a risk of harm to children, and/or
- behaved or may have behaved in a way that indicates they may not be suitable to work with children

Where a child discloses abuse or neglect by a member of staff/volunteer/supply/contractor/bank staff and those from organisations or individuals using the school premises:

- Listen; take their allegation seriously; reassure that you will take action to keep them safe
- Inform them what you are going to do next
- Do not promise confidentiality
- Do not question further or approach/inform the person/ alleged abuser

Report immediately to the person in charge (Eg headteacher, principal, manager)

HAYLET ROBERTS (DSL) MARTYN RILEY (DDSL) LUCY HURREN (DDSL) DAN HEAVEY (DDSL)

Any concern or allegation against the person in charge will be reported to (Eg chair of governor, owner, chair of committee, nominated trustee)

MARK PAXFORD (CHAIR OF GOVERNORS)

Unless there is clear evidence to prove that the allegation is incorrect, the person in charge will decide on the nature of the allegation/concern.

Allegations that may meet the harm threshold

KCSIE 2026 Part 4 Section 1 Guidance for persons in charge

Allegations that may meet the harm (LADO) threshold

If the behaviour towards the child may have met the harm threshold (KCSiE 2026, p.104) report the allegation within one working day to the Local Authority Designated Officer (LADO) and your HR provider

- Email the referral to LADOservice@wiltshire.gov.uk
- LADO process training is available on Wiltshire Safeguarding Vulnerable People Partnership \(SVPP\) - Booking Training

Under Working Together to Safeguard Children and Keeping Children Safe in Education, there is a statutory duty to assess concerns that may affect an individual's suitability to work with children, regardless of whether the behaviour occurred in a professional or personal context. Suitability and transferable risk refers to behaviour outside of the workplace and if there is a likelihood that the behaviours could be repeated in the workplace and might the behaviour present a risk of harm to children in your setting.

The LADO will:

1. Consider the relevant facts and concerns regarding the adult and child or children, including any previous history and whether the adult holds any other positions of trust.
2. Decide on next course of action - usually straight away. This may be a Consultation (not part of the formal LADO process) or an IEM (Initial Evaluation Meeting) which starts the formal LADO process.

Consultation and IEM:

- Consultation meeting – The LADO will meet with the employer to share information to safeguard children, evaluate any concerns and risk in relation to the person of concern, consider the harm test and agree on any action needed to address the issues.
- IEM – This is a multi-agency initial evaluation meeting to share information to safeguard children, evaluate any concerns and risk in relation to the person of concern, consider the harm test (including transferable risk) and agree on any action needed to address the issues.
- Transferable risk refers to behaviour outside of the workplace. Is there a likelihood that the behaviours could be repeated in the workplace and might the behaviour present a risk of harm to children in the setting?
- A record of the meeting will be made, and regular reviews will take place until a LADO outcome is reached.
- A disciplinary process can run alongside the LADO process – it is not one or the other. This will be discussed during the Consultation and formal LADO process.

If the allegation threshold is NOT met:

The LADO will agree an appropriate response, eg for the setting to undertake further enquiries or an internal investigation.

Refer to the low-level concerns procedures below..

Allegations/concerns that do not meet the harm threshold (low-level concerns)

KCSIE 2026 Part 4 Section 2 Guidance for persons in charge

The person in charge will take the following actions:

- Reports about supply staff and contractors will be notified to their employers.
- Collect information to help them categorise the type of behaviour and determine what further action may need to be taken.
- If the concern has been raised via a third party, the person in charge (or a nominated deputy) should collect as much evidence as possible by speaking:
 - directly to the person who raised the concern, unless it has been raised anonymously, and
 - to the individual involved and any witnesses.
- All low-level concerns will be recorded in writing and will include details of the concern, the context in which the concern arose along with the rationale for decisions and action taken.
- Records will be kept confidential and held securely; it is recommended that it is retained at least until the individual leaves their employment.
- Records will be reviewed so that potential patterns of concerning, problematic or inappropriate behaviour can be identified.
- Where a pattern of such behaviour is identified, the EY setting, school or college should decide on a course of action, either through its disciplinary procedures or where a pattern of behaviour moves from a low-level concern to meeting the harm threshold, in which case it should be referred to the LADO (as per Part 4, Section 1).
- Consideration should also be given to whether there are wider cultural issues within the school or college that enabled the behaviour to occur and where appropriate policies could be revised, or extra training delivered to minimise the risk of it happening again.
- The person in charge will seek advice from HR adviser and refer to LADO if appropriate.
